PROJECTS

SpotiEvent | HTML, CSS, JavaScript

- Utilized Ticketmaster and Spotify's API to display user's top artists and find music events based on their top genres.
- Integrated Express.js for server-side and configured a middleware for login authentication, handling client requests, and defining routes for making fetch requests to retrieve user's data.
- Rendered the site using React for a seamless communication between backend and frontend; styled the frontend using Chakra UI components to achieve consistency in visuals as well as custom CSS styling to achieve desired visuals.

ClassCraftUCI | HTML, CSS, and JavaScript

- Enhanced the looks of UCI's Schedule of Classes for a more readable display, which is an improvement from the compact view of the original page.
- Utilized PeterPortal's REST API with Postman API Platform to collect data of classes in real time to display.
- Implemented the usage of asynchronous JavaScript to improve performance of network requests to API.

ZotTime | HTML, CSS, and JavaScript

- Created a dynamic front-end application which shows the distances and walking time between classes at UCI.
- Implemented the Google Maps Platform API to create a visual of the distances between classes as well as figuring out the time it takes to walk and actual distance between classes.
- Integrated the PeterPortal API with Postman to source for classes location by using department and course number.

Instagram Login Page Clone | HTML and CSS

- Demonstrated proficient ability to use CSS selectors to target certain HTML elements.
- Used flexbox along with other CSS properties to style and position HTML components.
- Implemented responsive design to ensure that all screen sizes are accommodated by using mobile-first approach.
